

Design a Secure Future

In today's evolving construction and design landscape, managing risk has never been more critical. It's time to explore how partnering with us can secure your firm's future.

The insurance market is shifting, and many brokers aren't keeping up—especially in specialized areas like architecture and engineering. This can leave you exposed to outdated advice and inflated rates. At Axis Insurance, we don't just understand A&E; we lead the sector. Our team delivers proactive insights, expert guidance, and pricing that reflects true market conditions.

Let us help you protect what you've built.

Why Choose Axis Insurance?

In the fast-paced world of construction and design, risk management is crucial. At Axis Insurance, we specialize in addressing the unique challenges faced by architecture and engineering (A&E) firms. Our expertise goes beyond standard coverage—we provide clear, actionable guidance that empowers you to make informed decisions.

With competitive rates aligned to the latest market trends, we ensure you get the most value for your investment. We believe in true partnership, taking the time to understand your firm's distinct needs and tailoring insurance strategies to meet them.

Ready to protect your firm's future?
Connect with us today to explore tailored solutions.

Rob McLeod

Senior Vice President, Professional & Financial Services

Rob leads our Architects & Engineers sales team at Axis, bringing over 15 years of experience in the insurance industry, specializing in delivering exceptional risk management solutions to professionals in the design professionals sector.

rob.mcleod@axisinsurance.ca
(778) 228-1789

